Lemon Grove Review

MIL'S MUSINGS

By Richard Milbrodt

In the midst of the department store activity in San Diego, a representative of one of the Los Angeles Dept. chains was prospecting Lemon Grove for a location on which to build a gigantic addition. The fellow that was here said that his company felt that this area compared favorably with any of the super subdivisions in Los Angeles and would prove to be an ideal location for store that would probably be bigger than that new store in bigger San Diego. The question is: What firm was the man working for?

There have been considerable changes in the new phone directory as you probably know. One of the major changes was altering the former Jackson numbers to have a Woodcrest 5 - prefix. One that the company forgot to change in the new book is probably one of the most important. It's listed as COAST GUARD MARINE AND AIR EMERGENCY (CY) with the old number following. And, this appears on the first page of the directory yet. That's the one that lists emergency calls. If you call the number as listed, nothing happens.

One of the brightest disk jockey programs on the air is the Clockwatcher Show on KMPG every morning at 7:30. The latest gimmick on the show is to play records for license plates instead of people. Dick Wittinghill, the announcer, says that dedicating

Last week's article said that I would tell about our A.S.B. play, well something came up between then and now that needs a bigger plug than does our A.S.B. play. Now for a loyal highlander like me to say that you should know that it must be important to come ahead of Helix. But I'll give you the title of this thing in three words, and I know right off you'll agree that nothing can surpass the importance of this, it's the annual "March of Dimes."

The goal for the March of Dimes has been set at $5000 for the Lemon Grove area. The goal for the Helix High School has been tentatively set at $1000. The following activities are those which the Kiwanis Club has scheduled in order to reach these goals. Friday, January 2 and Saturday, January 3, the Minstrelers and the Tri-Ettes from Helix along with the Girl Scouts and Campfire Girls raised over $400 in the Lemon Grove area. On January 17, the Vista La Mesa Hi-Y, Rolando Hi-Y, Lemon Grove Hi-Y, and La Mesa Hi-Y along with the song leaders and cheer leaders working in conjunction with the Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club will put on a Block of Dimes in Lemon Grove, from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. Both the Helix Pep Band, and the Jr. High Band will be there. It is hoped that this will result in the raising of $5000.

On Saturday, January 24, a March of Dimes Dance will be held at Helix. The music will be furnished by Cassel and his band through the co-operation of the Musicians Union. Included in this program is a wrestling act from San Diego State College and talent acts from Helix. The entire proceeds from the dance will be donated to the March of Dimes.

Parents to Hear Class Discussion

Helix High P. T. A. meets Jan. 22nd at 7:30 in the new Little Theatre Building next to the Normal St. parking lot at Helix High School. A tape recording has been made of a representative group of students from various Social Problem Classes who are discussing the subject "Parental or Remote Control." This group discusses such questions as "Do parents have more or less responsibility toward today's Teenagers?" "What would we keep if we were parents?" "How much parental control do we expect?" and other leading topics. This subject was chosen to present at our meeting to give parents some idea of how our Teenagers feel, to present their side of family problems and help promote a closer understanding between parents and Teenagers. This is an unrehearsed discussion, recorded. The recording will be played for the parents at the meeting and a discussion will follow with Mr. Tom Warburton acting as moderator.

Hostesses serving refreshments are Area Representatives from Golden Ave., San Miguel and Monterey Heights. Members of the Cadet Corps will be on the grounds to direct parents to the Little Theatre Building.

Sale Event To Show Appreciation Says Lane

An unprecedented sale event is scheduled for this week in Lemon Grove.

Roy Lane's two stores, one of which was opened just prior to Xmas is going to hold a sale without sale merchandise.

So thorough was the buying and merchandising that not a single leftover resulted. Patrons, by continuously inquiring, literally forced Lane to hold a sale. As a result, regular merchandise purchased for normal seasonal selling is going to be marked down.

No sales merchandise was purchased.

"This is an unusual event," Lane said. "It's truly a sale by popular demand. We are pleased to do it because it gives us a chance to show our appreciation for customer loyalty."

For details of the sale see today's paper, page three.

EDITORIAL

All of us reminisce over lost opportunities. Many are the things we'd do differently if the second opportunity came. However, we are judged only by the things we actually do

When we assume the leadership and authority in a community, tremendous responsibilities accompany this trust. Board members of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce, for example, accept this responsibility else they could not conscientiously take the charge given them by the membership.

This responsibility has to do with the community's future as well as projects of the community on a day by day basis.

One current project is the March of Dimes. This civic and worthy project has been categorically turned down by the Chamber. Support was asked at a regular Chamber monthly meeting through one of the board members at the request of the Local March of Dimes committee. One hundred tickets for a March of Dimes dance at Helix had been allocated to the Chamber for considerations of disposition

Not only did the Chamber reject such aid, they failed to endorse the project which has the blessings of practically every service and business organization across the face of the continent.

This resistance was led by Jim Pearce, a local realtor and recently named board member of the Chamber. Said Pearce, "In my experience on many boards of this chamber we have never taken on such campaigns. We have no funds for such projects." (The question of funds was never raised. Co-operation in disposing of tickets was the subject.)

Another board member, serving his first term said, "If we aid in this project we'll be automatically liable for other charitable projects such as the Heart Fund."

Stated Forrest Baxter, immediate past president of the Chamber, "I resent being penalized by projects such as this just because I am giving my time to the Chamber."

As a result of the hassle, the question of whether or not the Chamber should support the March of Dimes was never brought to the chair.

We agree that the board cannot make contributions of its limited funds to any civic project not calculated to directly promote business and commerce.

But then, as civic leaders, no less than moral support should be given to worthy projects.

As matters now stand the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce is not on record as either endorsing or supporting the local March of Dimes. Nor does it look good for other similar projects in which the community would like to share.

Is this a desirable type of leadership? This editorial is not a "Grudge Fight" against any individual or the Chamber as a group.

If this editorial in some small amount awakens the spirit of responsibility and progress, its purpose will have been achieved.

Patrol Investigation Meeting Called for Mon.

A meeting of the Chamber of Commerce committee to investigate police service for the business community has been set for Monday, Roy Nielsen, Chamber president announced today.

Official name of the group is the Lemon Grove Business Men's Protective Association an extended police service in the business area with the service to be subsidized by the county unit to the extent of $105 a month, is the objective. Balance of the cost of the service is to be supported by the Merchant's Division of the Merchant's Division of the Chamber, it is proposed.

Working on the committee is C. Dail, chairman, Wm. Zilker, Cap. Galbraith, Roy Lane, Charles Serr, Bill Neinaber and Willard Rigley.

Nielsen also asked the committee to draft a concrete plan to be presented in written form. Another meeting is scheduled for Monday, Jan. 19th.

Hold Onto Your Corpuscles - Blood-Mobile Coming

Don't go wasting your blood on auto accidents, street fights and slight disagreements with your wife, is the plea of the Business Women's League. Save it till they bring out the Bloodmobile on February 28th. This project will be in co-operation with the Lemon Grove District Teacher's Association.

Further information will be forthcoming as the event nears.

Lemon Grove's five thousand bucks goal, mostly in small change, appeared to be well within shouting distance reported the March committee as they totaled the results of their efforts to date early this week.

While only a trifle over $400 was actually in the March coffers, the Committee had so many events cooking along successfully that co-chairmen, Chan Mason and Tom "Stretch" Warburton claimed the goal was casting a shadow over the horizon.

Dance At Helix

Major effort at present is the distribution of tickets to the polo dance scheduled for Helix "ballroom" Saturday, January 24th. Heading this phase is Bob Browne, the washer and refrigerator man. Tickets, says Browne, have been distributed to all of the service clubs. More than 2,000 tickets will return the drive more than $1,500 if the community donates $1 for each adult and 60c for each student.

Music for the dance will be furnished by Al Cassel's Musical Knights. This music will be presented by the co-operation of Local 325, American Federation of Musicians, through a grant from the Music Performance Trust Fund of the Recording Industry. As a result, the music will not cost the Dimes Campaign a cent.

Professional Show

In addition to the 7 person orchestra at the Helix dance, a professional type floor show will also be offered. The State College wrestling team will offer a wrestling burlesque, an act that has achieved considerable fame throughout the area.

Bathing Beauties, Too

Another act, sponsored by the Woman's Club Juniors, Bathing Beauties from circa 1890 to 1954 will be modeled. The Helix Key Club will offer a dance act in the continental manner built around the can-can.

Two of Cassel's vocalists, Ozzie and Betty will also have a part in the proceedings.

Arrangements are being made for attendance of more than 1,000. "It will be the largest sponsored dance for charity ever held in this community," Mason stated.

Coffee and donuts, donated by two distributors, will be served at the dance.

Free Ticket Delivery

While the various service clubs are distributing tickets, certain business houses will have them for sale also. "If any firm wants tickets I'll deliver them personally, and fast," Browne said.

The Block of Dimes which the community will face up to Saturday will see a contest between two factions. This event will be handled entirely by Helix students. Originally it was set up to be handled by local adults.

150 Volunteers

The president of Helix Student Body asked for volunteers following the reading of a letter from polio-ill Kathy Bradshaw of Lemon Grove who was a Helix student. Within an hour 150 students signed up to take part in "block" contest.

Helix cheer leaders, pom-pom girls and band will attract attention to the event. Lemon Grove elementary school's band and pom-pom girls will add their help to the "block".

Cafes Compete

Business firms are helping in more ways than by selling tickets. Two of the town's leading taverns are in competition with each other to see which will have

by Max Goodwin

Many of us Americans, as children, thrilled to the fable of the Aeneas Stables and the mighty feat of Hercules. The stables, containing 3000 oxen, hadn't been cleaned for 30 years. Hercules cleaned them in a single day by turning a great river through them.

A majority of us Americans, as adult voters, have elected and called upon Dwight D. Eisenhower to clean out the mess in Washington. So doing, we have given him a task far more formidable than that of Hercules. The "Aeneas Stable" of Washington hasn't been cleaned in 20 years, and like has no magic river with which to do the job. He can only apply determination, sound judgment and able leadership to a job that will require years to come.

Ugly news of these days reveals the scope of his problem. There is, for instance, the charge of Lamar Caudle, ousted assistant attorney general, that the Justice Department interfered in the "mess" of the Kansas City vote fraud case. At that time, Tom Clark was attorney general; today he is a Supreme Court justice.

Whether Caudle's statement on this matter is accurate or otherwise, the incident highlights the hard fact that the new Administration is saddled with a New Deal-Fair Deal legacy of entrenchment in power that is in some respects unshakable. Supreme Court justices are appointed for life. So are other federal judges. Virtually all now on the bench were named by either Roosevelt or Truman. Many other officials are in positions untouchable by either the new Chief Executive or the legislative branches of government. Here we have a situation that should teach the American electorate, for all time to come, that it is unwise and unsound to permit any political party to remain in power for too long.

It is the people, in last analysis, who are responsible for this condition. And it must be the people who have responsibility for giving to President Eisenhower the support and understanding he must have in order to effect the long-term cleanup so sorely needed.

Ways to Conquer Worry

JESS WILKES, New Brockton, Alabama, says that he has found that plenty of wholesome exercise, reading habits, and religious worship will help to conquer fear and worry. In 1943 his father died, leaving his mother, a small baby sister, a 19 year old brother named Jack, and himself, and he was in the armed forces.

His brother Jack was left to operate a 560-acre farm. In January of 1944 he visited the draft board to see about a deferment, but in February of 1944, he was drafted into the armed forces, leaving his broken-hearted mother to operate the farm. She had no knowledge of running a big farm since all she had ever done was to take care of her home and rear her family. In 1944 he and his brother were on the high seas at the same time for an overseas assignment. On top of all this, he was leaving his wife expecting their first child.

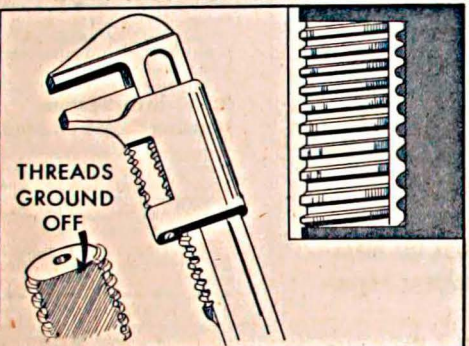

In China he was so worried over the conditions existing back home that he lost a great deal of weight. Finally his commanding officer asked why he was not getting the work out of his men. He hesitated to tell his troubles at first, but finally he broke down. Then he learned his commanding officer knew fear and worry. He told Jess of his divorce and of losing a son whom he had loved so much. Then he said he would help Jess iron out his problems.

That evening, he came by for Jess. They went to the largest library in downtown Shanghai. They sat at the same table and studied the life of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, which was most interesting. After three hours, they went to an indoors swimming pool for an hour. After this they had dinner and returned to their home base. This was the first night's rest Jess had had since being in the far east. On the following Sunday they went to a pagoda and worshipped with the Buddhists. They continued a similar program throughout his stay in China.

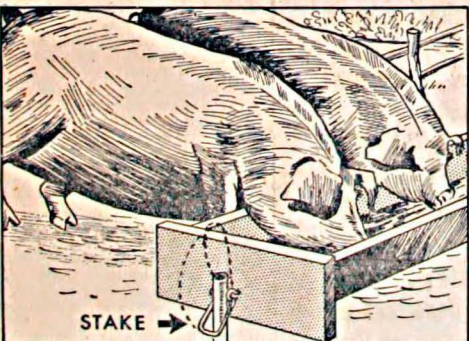

After getting settled, he realized that he had to accept his father's death as a fact. He found that his mother was operating the farm probably better than his brother could have done. And he had a fine baby boy waiting for him at home. He realized then that he and his family were among the most fortunate people in his world.

Built-In Kitchen Ranges

from SMALL HOMES GUIDE

Today an oven can be tucked into a wall of the kitchen and located at the height that is most convenient. Burner units can be as close to or as far away from the oven as the housewife desires. Built-in ranges, in either gas or electric models make this possible. They offer more flexible kitchen planning, allow the creation of the type of cooking center best suited to the individual's work habits.

The picture at left shows two electric ovens and a warming drawer located on one side of the kitchen. Opposite is the four burner and griddle surface unit. An important safety device is the controls on top of the unit and out of the youngsters' reach. Griddle top swings down when griddle is not in use.

Pictured here is a built-in oven and electric model burner unit placed side-by-side. Burners are built into a counter-top which means storage space close at hand. A split-burner arrangement affords in-between work space. Oven has anodized copper finish on the door. Also available in stainless steel or baked enamel.

"I REMEMBER"

BY THE OLD TIMERS

From George A. Leonard, Stratford, Texas: When I was a boy my father and mother raised all our living except sugar and coffee. We had potatoes, apples, turnips, carrots, radishes, celery, cabbage all buried outside in big mounds. And besides we had lots of beans, kraut, pumpkins, eggs, milk, butter, lard, chickens, flour and meal.

From J. L. Hart, Bettendorf, Iowa: There have been many changes made since this happened—long before they embalmed dead people. I remember an elderly man who passed away and the people laid him out on a couple of boards with sheets over him and glass jars filled with ice to preserve the body. That was about 55 years ago.

From Mary Karch, Lakeview, Ohio: I remember the peddling wagon where mother used to take her butter and eggs to the main highway to trade. The peddler used to blow a conch shell that sounded over the hills to let us know he was coming. I remember the chestnut barrel hanging behind the stove, along with dried apples and peaches, popcorn and herbs, like catnip for new babies.

From E. F. Meredith, Fairmont, W. Va.: Every country home used to have a corn husk mat at the front door. It was made by plaiting stripped corn husks and letting the ends stick up about an inch and sewing the plait like old rag rugs. They were wonderful for cleaning the feet.

From Sidney Johnson, Lexington, Ky.: I remember when whittling was a national pastime. When a man gave out of sticks he would start in on a chair or table. I once saw a judge whittle away a big chunk of his bench while hearing a case. We used to whittle while we were trading or swapping to give us time to ponder.

Washington and "Small Business"

By C. WILSON HARDER

While Federal taxes are usually blamed for all the heavy tax burden, there are indications that Washington and Congress may take action to reduce the tax load at the local level.

At present, County and Federal taxes are taking almost 36% of all income. A large share is state and local taxes. Many local governmental units want to reduce taxes; but in many cases cannot reduce taxes until the Federal government acts.

Therefore, Washington is going to watch with interest Senator William Knowland of California in the new session of Congress.

Some in Washington are even inclined to believe Senator Knowland is on "the spot."

He has been selected with force, this problem.

In many states, the Federal government holds so much land that a heavier share of the tax load falls on the lands that are left in private ownership.

In Senator Knowland's own state of California, the Federal Government now owns one of every two acres, much of it valuable farmland, and metropolitan property. Under the law, Federally owned property is tax exempt.

One of the most mentioned examples is the 86,000 acres of army holds at Camp Beale, California. During the last war, the Army moved into the Marysville-Yuba City area, called the Peach Bowl of the world, and took over 86,000 acres, composed of both grazing lands and irrigated lands.

A SHARE OF GOSSIP

By Le Page Nelson

AFTER 16 years Emily Stark was going to leave her husband. She sat alone in her bedroom waiting for him to come home. Tonight she would tell him. Tonight everything would be settled and tomorrow she would go off with Chester Moore. Idly she thought of Chester. He was pleasant and tall and genial. And rich. Otherwise there was nothing particularly impressive about him. He lacked the drive and drive of John, her husband.

Vindictively she thought how sick to death she was of men of John's type. Of John. He had been too occupied with his work, with building up his business.

Suddenly her mind leaped to Haldee Pearson. Curious why she should think of Haldee. Then a voice way down deep in her heart told her that Haldee was the cause, the real cause, of her and John separating. If she hadn't seen them together that night at the Flamingo Club, if she had heard no whispered gossip, she and John would have kept on drifting—drifting until he made the first move that would break things off. That was why she was going to tell him tonight. She couldn't stand having him be the first to broach the subject.

The telephone on her bedside table shrilly interrupted her thoughts. "This is the city hospital, Mrs. Stark. Your son, Robert, has been in an accident. You'd better get down here as quickly as you can."

Emily's heart stopped beating, then began again, pounding wildly, terror racing through her blood. "Is he—he is—he—" she couldn't finish the sentence.

The voice came back cool and reassuring. "There's no need for immediate worry, Mrs. Stark. He's asking for you and his father."

"Oh!" She dropped the phone, whirled, stopped. John was standing in the doorway. She stared at him wildly.

"What is it? What's happened?" He took hold of her shoulders and shook her. "What's happened?"

"Yes, he's had an accident. He's at the City Hospital."

Without a word he turned and went out. She caught up a wrap and followed him downstairs.

"The car's out front," he told her. He had his hat and coat on, was holding the door. John got behind the wheel. The machine leaped down the drive. He drove fast, but not recklessly. His face was a cold, inscrutable profile.

Emily wanted to talk, wanted to say something.

"John, is it our fault? We haven't been very good parents. Oh, John, he mustn't die!"

"He won't die," said John. "We won't let him die." She felt closer to him then than she had in years.

A nurse admitted them to the hospital room. Robert was unconscious, waiting. His handsome boyish face lay lighted at sight of them.

"Dad! Mother! Gee, I thought you'd never come."

Tears came into the boy's eyes. "I—I'm all right. At first I was so glad it happened. I thought, well, if I died, then things wouldn't matter any more." He looked from one to the other of them. "But now—it's different. You're here—together. I'm all right now."

Emily tried hard to swallow the lump that came into her throat and couldn't. So she put her head down on the pillow beside her son's and cried. After a while she stood up. John was waiting for her at the door.

A doctor entered the room. "Is he will everything be all right, doctor?"

The doctor went over to the bed and looked at Robert and then came back to the two by the door. "He'll be all right—now. For awhile we were worried. He didn't seem to want to recover."

Outside, John and Emily walked slowly down the corridor. Neither spoke, nor looked at the other. At the end of the corridor was a small conservatory. It was empty and they entered.

"Emily, I guess we haven't been good parents. I guess things have been happening that we never dreamed about."

"Yes!" Emily said. "Yes, John. I—I feel so ashamed and guilty."

He took her hand and held it awkwardly. "There! Now there's no need to blame yourself. It was as much me. I—I guess I'm to blame all around."

"John! You're no more to blame than I. Even if you and Haldee Pearson..." She broke off, biting her lip, regretting the impulse that had made her mention Haldee's name.

John's eyebrows went up. For a moment the lines about his mouth hardened. Then he smiled. "A man has his pride too, you know. Haldee was the best I could do on such short notice."

Emily looked up quickly. "You—"

He nodded. "I couldn't see you getting all the gossip. I figured I deserved a little."

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Constant requests have been made to take the Army out of the land to production, and thus to the tax rolls. The answer is that there is hopes that some day a "West Point of the Air" will be established at Camp Beale.

But at the same time, the Army feels that the most land they will ever need is 40,000 acres, yet the Army yet holds onto 86,000 acres.

A great deal of this land back on the tax rolls, would substantially increase the assessed valuation, thus paying the way for a lower tax rate. In the Marysville-Yuba City area, cling peach orchards often produce 20 tons to the acre, or a return at present prices of around $1500 per acre per year. Assessed valuation would be based on this productive capacity.

The drive to get the government out of vast real estate holdings all over the nation is headed up in California, because with one acre out of every two owned by the Federal government, California furnishes the worst example of boosted tax loads.

As expected, the Army is loathe to give up anything, once it has taken over. Congress will have to do the job.

The military is not the only offender. In many cities throughout the nation various civilian agencies of the government have taken over entire buildings in valuable downtown centers.

It is not expected that the White House will object to any move to cut down on the waste, or freezing of national resources by the military, or any other agency of the government. Although a former Chief of Staff himself, President-elect Eisenhower in his campaigns said that much "fat" could be cut out of the military establishments without jeopardizing safety.

New Dam and Flume Solve Water Problem . . . 1885

In 1885 the San Diego Flume Company was organized to build a dam at Cuyamaca for the storage of water, and a flume to carry the water to the growing populace of San Diego.

Shown here, in a photograph from the historical collection of Union Title Insurance & Trust Company, are loads of redwood lumber being hauled by teams of mules and horses to the mountain site. Construction of the dam and flume involved tremendous amounts of work and material, but it was believed that with their completion, San Diego's water problem would be solved for all time.

In 1889 the flume was finished and a mile-long parade was planned in celebration. Great jets of water were to shoot into the air along Fifth Avenue to give the spectators a chance to sample the mountain water. At the last moment it was discovered that air-escape valves had been overlooked; the water was air-bound. Somewhat abashed, the officials appealed to a rival water company to turn San Diego River water into the pipes, and the celebration continued. Three days later — without fanfare — the water arrived from Cuyamaca.

Remnants of the old flume are still visible in certain areas — crumbling tribute to the southward men and animals who labored to complete the 35-mile long flume.

McQueens In Guadalajara On Vacation

Reports of a "wonderful trip" come from Carmen and Bill McQueen, operators of the Avalon Cafe here in Lemon Grove. They are vacationing in Mexico and sent postcards from Guadalajara. A well deserved rest and fishing will occupy Mac and Carmen for the next two or three weeks after which they will re-open their cafe.

"Roads are excellent, only hazards are cows, burros, goats and kids," wrote Mac.

Isay Kline, trainer of three superb paw world champs in Freddie Miller, Lou Brouillard and George Nichols, says his current fighter, Chuck Davey, is the best boxer of the lot. . . . Brouillard was the only southpaw to hold two world titles—welterweight and middleweight. . . . Sugar Ray Robinson, despite announcements to the contrary, plans to give up the ring for business and a stage career. . . . Reports are that the Pirates' slugger, Ralph Kiner, may be swinging his big bat for another team next year—some eastern team. . . . Seven horses have won the famous "Triple Crown" in racing (Ky. Broadway Lot Changes Hands

Consummation of a deal for a business lot on Broadway was announced this week by a local businessman. A twenty-five foot lot adjacent the property of Luther Hussey's law office was the parcel involved.
Ervin Major, co-owner of the Broadway Auto Supply and George Davis, proprietor of George's Auto Electric Company in San Diego are the purchasers. Sterling Cato was the seller. The amount of the sale was undisclosed.

Paul Harvey Has Oldest Grove Business

Paul Harvey, of the Harvey Welding Shop at 7160 Broadway, has one of the oldest businesses in Lemon Grove. It opened in April of 1946 and has continued under the same management.

Harvey specializes in steel fabricating as well as light and heavy equipment repairing. Harvey was born and raised on a ranch in San Diego County. He has two sons, John (Jack), who is a racing car enthusiast and has collected many trophies for his skill, and Stuart, a Helix High senior.

Liquor License Post On Main St.

An on-sale, general liquor license has been posted on the window of the store building owned by Sol Blanc at 3496 Main Street, Lemon Grove. The notice was made to Harry E. Weiss. Information concerning the date of the opening of the tavern could not be obtained.

From Catekill Mountain Snow, Saugerties, N.Y.:

A late news bulletin advises that a couple of Boston scientists are on their way to Alaska to learn whether a white whale's heart works as hard as a man's. Among the things we'd like to know is who holds the whale while they investigate, why do they insist on a white one, and is their control a big-hearted man or one of those human worms? The cost of such an excursion would send a bunch of kids to camp for a couple of weeks . . . and provide even more valuable research data on hearts.

JANUARY CLEARANCE

Nearly every business firm holds a sale in January. Ordinarily we would hold one too. Because of careful buying of wanted merchandise and unprecedented sales we find ourselves without a single leftover item. Nor do we believe in buying merchandise expressly for conducting a sale. However so many of the store's patrons have inquired about a January clearance that we are going to mark down regular Lane quality seasonal merchandise. In such a manner we hope to show our appreciation for our customer's loyalty.

Come in and select with confidence and save.

Browne Buys Maytags By The Carload

Here is the second carload of Maytag Washers consigned to Browne's Refrigeration and Washer Service within a two month period. Pictured against the car is Bob Browne, proprietor of the firm. The car, containing nearly 100 washers was sent here from Newton, Iowa, following several months of negotiation by Browne. The demand for Maytag has been so great and the supply so limited that production has never leveled out at the Maytag plant, Browne reports. A majority of the washers will go to standing orders said Browne and forthcoming orders will be filled in the order received. Extended payments to meet the individuals needs are available. A small down payment or trade-ins without cash can handle the deal, he said. Arrangements can be made by phoning H 6-8093. Browne's Refrigeration and Washer Service is located at 3283 Main Street and is open daily.

GOLDEN AVENUE SCHOOL TO HELP IN MARCH OF DIMES

Students of the Golden Avenue School in Lemon Grove will stage their March of Dimes today, Friday, January 16, at the school. The Student Council is sponsoring the March and is preparing publicity for each classroom.

Wiley Cornelius, faculty sponsor of the Student Council, has arranged to have Mrs. Robert E. Hitchcock of 3002 Helix Spring Valley Road present a puppet show and dog show to an assembly of the entire student body, kindergarten through fifth grade. This will precede the March. Mrs. Hitchcock is donating this performance of her shows as her contribution to the March of Dimes campaign.

Sonja Henie Brings Show To S. D. This Month

"Something new on ice" might well be the theme this year of Sonja Henie's 1953 Ice Revue, scheduled to open January 27th at Glacier Garden, 8th and Harbor Drive in San Diego.

Ticket sales, including mail order requests, start Saturday. This colorful extravaganza will mark the first time in ice show history that a number of sensational non-skating acts have been included to augment the production artistry of Miss Henie and her cast of over 200 cohorts.

The versatile, blonde queen of the ice literally has gone to the four corners of the globe to obtain new talent never before seen by American audiences. Top entertainers from Europe, Sweden, Egypt and Cuba are represented in the many acts.

Comedy galore will be provided by Hamm and Riggs, in their hilarious comedy routine, and Tuffy and Gil McKellan, comic acrobats who have perfected a football routine on ice.

Miss Henie will also present her new leading man, Marshall Beard; Buddy La Londe, world-famous speed and trick skater; Don Watson, the seventeen-year-old "flying saucer" of the ice; and Marshall Chapple, the national champion baton twirler. Sheer beauty and perfection will be supplied by Narena and Norris, an acrobatic adagio team famed for their spinning and synchronized ballet feats executed on skates.

Sonja Henie herself will star in no less than six production numbers, featuring, of course, her ever-popular and original Hula Dance on skates.

You can help, too! Join the March of Dimes.

Grove PTA Extends 'Founders' Day' Plans

The executive board of the Lemon Grove School P. T. A. met January 6, at the home of Mrs. H. K. Newell, 3088 Cypress Street, with Mrs. H. G. Hoard as co-hostess. Further plans were made for Founders' Day, which will be celebrated next month by P. T. A. groups all over the nation.

Mrs. Roy Milner, Well-Baby Conference Chairman, reported on work being done at the Conference the second Monday of each month at the Youth Center on School Lane. She stated that appointments for examinations of well, pre-school children should be made through the school nurse. No appointments are necessary for immunization shots. County doctors and nurses are in attendance.

Ben Schel, school principal, reported on the progress of the snack shop now being operated by the district cafeteria manager, Ruth Pfister. This project at the junior high helps provide hot food for the pupils until such time as the new multi-purpose building is constructed.

Others attending the meeting included Mrs. Robert Beckham, president and Mmes. O. Holmquist, Edward Kinyon, L. Upton, H. Bryant, Evelyn Whalen, Margaret Darroch, J. Burgree, H. Randall, C. Edenfield, R. Brown, C. Planchon, V. Danielson, and Mr. Thomas Brogan.

The next meeting of the board will be held on February 10, with Mmes. J. Burgreen and H. Bryant as hostesses.

Four Teachers Attend Council

Four representatives from the Lemon Grove District Teachers Association attended the Southern Section Council Meeting of the California Teachers Association last Friday and Saturday in Los Angeles. They included Cedric Stammerjohn, Jessie Snell, Donna Dreyer, and Peg Darroch. Reports on the various committee discussions will be made to the local association members at the meeting next Thursday evening, January 22, at the Vista La Mesa School.

Legislative Round-up, 77th Assembly District

By Edwin S. "Ed" Bulen

Interest is now centered on the activities of our State Legislative bodies and especially as these activities concern our individual lives.

The writer of this column will make an honest effort to get it out weekly and to fill the column with items of interest to the voters of the 77th Assembly District. We shall endeavor at all times to give an unbiased account of events, at times perhaps telling you how we feel about a matter. We invite your comments and communications will be promptly answered. State Capitol, Sacramento, will be sufficient address.

Activities in the Assembly Chambers the past week have centered on organization — and it has been a big job.

James Silliman, a warehouseman from Salinas, was unanimously elected Speaker to succeed Sam Collins. Arthur Ohlms, a veteran of many years service in the Assembly and a very fine man, was re-elected Clerk.

Seats were assigned to members in the Chamber and offices passed out to the different Assemblymen.

The new Speaker has announced his Committees, yours truly drawing Agriculture, Industrial Relations, Manufacturing, Oil and Mining Industry, State Personnel and a new one, that of Livestock and Dairying. Next I'll try to tell you some-

IRENE DODD—YOUNG LADY GOING PLACES

In just a few years, she has advanced in the telephone business from student operator to assistant chief

In August, 1943, Irene Dodd came to work for Pacific Telephone as an inexperienced student operator. Since then, she's had several promotions — to operator in charge, supervising operator, and recently to her present position as assistant chief operator. This is a familiar telephone success story. For advancing our telephone men and women as their skill and experience grows is just one more way we work to make your telephone ever more efficient and valuable to you.

A good place to work

One reason why telephone jobs are good jobs is the fact that each year thousands of telephone men and women are promoted to more responsible positions in the hundreds of communities we serve locally here in the Pacific West. Their goal: to help keep your telephone service the finest in the world.

YOUR TELEPHONE IS ONE OF TODAY'S BEST BARGAINS

Every day is exciting for Mrs. Dodd who, like many telephone women, has combined marriage and her career. She enjoys keeping house as much as she enjoys helping people with their telephone calls. Gratifying, too, is the feeling that she is helping new people get ahead in the telephone world. It's all part of telephone tradition — a tradition of service which insures that a well-trained force of men and women stand behind the good telephone service you enjoy every day.

Looking through our crystal ball we forecast continued prosperity for contractors and the influx of people that follow their work here in Lemon Grove. Another of our charming song-leaders, is Renee Marie Wilson, 17 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Wilson of American Homes. This cute and popular young Miss recently announced her engagement to Walter Burgess, a Grossmont graduate, and a S. D. resident. Renee has attended Lemon Grove, Grossmont and is now a Senior at Helix High. She originally lived in Philadelphia and moved to San Diego at the ripe-old-age of 17 months. Renee is very active in school activities, being a member of the Duchesses, Jr. and Sr. Horizon, La Conventiles (all service clubs), and the Pep Committee, Prom Committee, and Election Board. She is one of three sisters, the others being 10 and 15 years. Her hobbies include dancing, swimming, and eating. Her favorite food consists of fried shrimp with tartar sauce, and french fries, although it does not seem to effect her 118 lbs. She stands 5'5", has blonde curly hair and blue eyes. As for music, she likes popular and semi-classics. Her favorite recording artists are Lawrence Welk and Les Brown, tune, "Unforgettable." Renee and Walt were in a bad accident last February, but recovered completely. Renee's ambition is to be a good homemaker.

God Is Life Christian Science Sermon

The loveliness, freshness, and joy of life made manifest in individual experience through the understanding that Life is God, good, is pointed out in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Life" in all Christian Science churches.

"The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup; thou maintainest my lot. Thou wilt shew me the path of life," is the Golden Text from Psalms (16:5,11).

It is recorded in Isaiah (65:8, 19,21,22), "Thus saith the Lord. . . I will rejoice in Jerusalem, and joy in my people. . . they shall build houses and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them. . . For as the days of a tree are the days of my people, and mine elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands."

HHS Students In Guidance Course

Fifteen seniors from the senior class of Helix High School visited schools in the Lemon Grove District on Tuesday morning, January 13, as part of their instruction in a guidance course offered at the high school. These students are boys and girls who have shown and indicated an interest in elementary school teaching as a vocation.

Following an orientation at San Miguel School, at which time they were addressed by Robert Sutton, school principal, and Cedric Stammerjohn, president of the Lemon Grove District Teachers Association, the seniors broke up into smaller groups and visited schools throughout the district.

"Lungs" Going Good

A survey at the week's beginning shows that the "iron lungs" are getting a fair play. Since these cannot be opened without destroying them it is impossible to tell just how good they are going until the drive is ended.

Representatives of the Woman's Club Seniors are out beating the bushes for dance ticket donors. This group is led by Mrs. Charles Brown. More than one hundred tickets had been distributed by this energetic civic leader as the week commenced.

Mrs. Alfred Heubusch, president of the Business Women's League always dependable in a civic enterprise, is handling tickets for her club and distribution is progressing briskly.

Mrs. L. P. Scagliotti, proxy of the Woman's Club Juniors is extremely active among her group and it appears that a successful report will be forthcoming from her organization.

The Lion's Club, with Bob Von Wiler at the head, will dispose of a block of tickets with the enthusiasm that the Lion's Club is recognized for. This group, composed of many of the community's men of accomplishment, will probably have the highest total of any club when the counting is complete.

Thermometers, representing the fund's growth have been set up in two vantage spots by the redoubtable Grove Fire Department under the direction of "Puppy" Hensley. This group had a remarkably recovery after practically blowing their brains out filling the balloons which were sold during the opening week of the drive. Meanwhile the thermometers are being installed, one in the plaza and the other at the western approaches of the community.

Warburton, championing at the bit of progress, set a fresh cut flower and National Foundation balloon event to be handled by Campfire Girls and Girl Scouts on the 31st. He summed up the project like this: "It looks like we can collect about $1,500 on dance tickets; Helix students are going to collect $1,000. The Mother's March and Grove School District students should aid by $1,000. With the money we have, and if the "iron lungs" and the business firms gimmicks get another thousand, we'll just get over the top."

The entire committee for the March have asked everyone who takes tickets to the Helix dance to come. "It will give each generous citizen a chance to see who his generous neighbor is."

It is hoped that this will see the committee safely over the $5000 mark. I hope to see each and everyone of you, that read this column, out there contributing to this worthy cause. It will help such kids and parents that live in the Helix High School District only. Golden PTA Honors Dads

The Dads of the Golden Avenue P. T. A. were honored at the monthly meeting of the association Thursday night.

During the business meeting, the group voted to support the others' March as part of the Dimes campaign and several signed a pledge to help in the Porchlight Parade.

Entertainment was provided by a barbershop quartet, the El Cajon Valleaires, and a movie "A Child's Guide to a Parents' Mind."

Fourth grade mothers were hostesses and Miss Bell's room won the attendance prize.

The February meeting of the Golden Avenue P. T. A. will be held on February 10, instead of the originally scheduled February 12, because the latter is a holiday. Founders' Day will be celebrated at that meeting and the Mother singers will provide a skit and songs for the entertainment.

Furniture Fashions By McMahan's

Dave Cunningham of McMahan's Lemon Grove store, shows pretty Helen Broiles how to ascertain quality and comfort in purchasing a mattress. "Be certain the ticking is woven, that at least coil springs are built in because it takes that many to adequately support the body, check to see that the springs are of tempered metal. Remember, ventilation holes add to the life of the bed, handles make for easy turning for the housewife," he says.

"All these features are on the requirement lists of McMahan's buyers," adds Cunningham. "That's why homemakers can purchase at McMahan's with confidence."

Easy terms make it possible for any householder to have the finest bedding without severe financial strain. Mr. Cunningham will give additional information by phone if you call H9-2171.

Lemon Grove McMahan's is at Olive and Broadway and is open Fridays till nine.

Talent is having a good aim in life. Genius is pulling the trigger.

A dollar won't do as much for me as it used to. But then, I won't do as much for a dollar as I used to.

If I overhear the high school set accurately this month, the fate of the world rests not so much in the strength and character of our young men, but in their accuracy at tossing a basketball through a hoop.

Obstacles are those terrifying things we see when we take our eyes off our goals.

My mother had to bake and fry all day over a wood stove to get the compliments that my wife gathers after thirty minutes of thawing things out.

"There's one good thing about living in the past," grins J. C. Lincoln, our club's venerable older. "It's much cheaper."

Don't be afraid to climb. If you're clean, the same fellows who have been cheering you on will still be steadying the ladder when you reach the top.

Plant Pansies Now For Quick Color

Right now, with many plants waiting for spring before blooming, your garden is apt to be a bit bare. To add color quickly, set out some pansies; they will bloom almost immediately and continue blooming on into summer.

mer if they receive proper care. Pansies are one of the most popular of all bedding plants, according to the Bedding Plant Advisory Board. And many interesting new strains are being offered for your gardening pleasure. "Paydirt," for example, is a striking large yellow, now generally available in solid-color flats. Also finding favor, the Board reports, is a new type called "Butterfly Hybrids," offered in assorted-color flats. A distinct departure from pansies' usual somewhat darker tones, this type comes in various delicate pastels. Many gardeners are not sure of the difference between pansies and the closely related violas, since the two are very similar. However, violas can stand more shade, and grow in prim tufts instead of the pansies' reckless sprawl. Their flowers are smaller, shaped more like violets and have much less dark central marking or none at all. Remember, when setting out your pansies, that they thrive on rich, loose soil with an ample supply of humus and well-rotted manure. If your soil is heavy, raise your planting bed to assure good drainage. Set out the plants six inches apart, being sure not to bury the crown. Spray or dust regularly to control aphids and white fly. Keep old flowers picked off and your pansies will bloom for months.

This Month is the March of Dimes Month.

10 MILLION OWNERS OF ELECTRIC BED COVERINGS NOW SAY --

A mother says, "I take ours along when we go to our mountain cabin."

A salesman reports, "They furnish them in better hotels now — and they really relax you after a tough day."

A grandmother smiles, "Such a wonderful thing for older folks — so light, so different from the old way of trying to sleep under a pile of heavy blankets and comforters."

Yes, these are what just a few of the more than 10,000,000 persons say about electric bed coverings.

They warm the bed for you — to just the temperature you like (you choose it by setting the dial) — and they keep it that way automatically all night long (by thermostatic control) so that you're cradled to sleep in a warm, even temperature — with no chills — no cold spots.

They're easy to care for and keep clean — just follow directions. They make bed-making easy — one cover instead of many. They're inexpensive, too, when you consider the number of blankets and comforters needed for ordinary bed-making. Also, some have dual controls — perfect for double beds.

See a dealer today! He's a modern sleep merchant selling countless restful and energy-building hours in the land of nod.

THE Baffles By Mahoney

THE STARS

By LYNN CONNELLY

BOB HOPE, already committed to a number of fall TV stints, is being paged for a five-a-week daytime radio series as well. It depends partly on Bob's willingness to work that hard. Those readings from the Bible by Charles Laughlin for video viewers appear nearly set, with the actor scheduled to start the series in time for another Christmas broadcast. NBC has paired Tony Martin and Marguerite Piazza for a musical songfest due to take the air this autumn. TV films of the coronation of Queen Elizabeth will be distributed here by British producers in an attempt to crack the U.S. market.

Margaret Truman cut her European trip short in order to be back in time for another appearance on the Jimmy Durante show this month. CBS may do a film repeat of a network telecast of last winter, in which Adlai Stevenson matched wits with the Quiz Kids. The work of H. G. Wells and Mark Twain have been acquired for television. Several replacements are being considered for the ailing Fred Allen in the new quiz show the comedian was slated for in the fall. Herb Shriner and Ray Bolger are the leading candidates for the spot.

IDOL CHATTER

Robert Young has solved the problem of how to do a weekly broadcast while touring the country in a star play. He flies the cast to where he's appearing and puts the show on tape. A survey just completed shows that since the advent of TV, 3,500 film theatres have closed their doors. Will Rogers, Jr., who had to be coaxed to do the movie story of his famous father and then agreed to make it only if he was not annoyed further by movie producers, has suddenly done an aboutface. He's reportedly signed for a TV film deal, with other film jobs pending. The greasepaint in his blood was just too much for him.

Doug Fairbanks, Jr. has organized his own video production company abroad, with NBC contracting as the outlet here for Doug's offerings. ABC-TV is considering a unique sports series.

From The Courier-Gazette, Newark, N.Y.:

Miss Rose Williams, dealer in antiques, has a gripe, and a good one, to report. She found a dead bird in front of her home Tuesday at the foot of Price's Hill on Route 86 and upon examination found it to be a Sora Rail. She said it was a rare species which does more running than flying.

The South End neighbor reasoned that the bird was killed by a careless motorist who was in such a hurry that the feathered friend had no chance of crossing the highway. She also disclosed that three cock pheasants have been killed by cars at the hill's summit.

"Good shooting went with the wind of the automobile," protested Miss Williams who asks for a little more consideration from motorists. She admitted that oftentimes birds would fly blindly into cars but there was no reason for the killing of the Sora Rail.

GOOD NEWS for HOMEMAKERS

By Anne Marshall

"In Love With a Wonderful Gal". That's the tune your husband will hum when you serve extra good meals for less money. Follow these tips to cut down the high cost of eating.

• Check grocery ads for items at special low prices. Do this each week just before you go shopping for the week's food supply.

• Read labels on cans and on packages of frozen foods to see exactly how much edible food you are getting.

• Buy fruits and vegetables that are plentiful — usually they cost less. Citrus fruits are often a good buy at this season.

• Plan menus around the lower priced meats and fish. Lean ground beef is generally a good buy because it has no waste and can be extended with so many other foods such as spaghetti and noodles.

Cost-Wise and Taste-Wise, meat rolls are a wonderful supper dish for wintertime. Serve them in a creamy mushroom sauce for irresistible flavor.

Baked Beef Rolls with Mushroom Sauce

1/4 chopped onion 1/4 cups milk
1 tablespoon 2 cans (2 1/2 cups)
shortening condensed cream of mushroom soup
2 cups ground beef
2 cups prepared biscuit mix

Cook onion until slightly brown in shortening; add cooked ground beef and 1/4 cup soup; set aside. Combine biscuit mix and 1/4 cup milk. Roll biscuit dough in an oblong piece about 1/4 inch thick.

Spread dough with meat filling; roll up lengthwise like a jelly roll. Cut into six 1 1/2-inch thick slices; place on a greased baking sheet or pan and bake in a hot oven (400° F.) for 15 to 20 minutes or until brown. Meanwhile, combine remaining soup and milk; heat well. Pour over beef rolls. Makes 6 servings.
